THE DAILY AVALANCHE.

BY TELEGRAPH.

FRIDAY'S NOON DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Midnight—General Grant was informed of his nomination as the Republican candidate for the Presidency by the President of the Chicago Convention. A large number of persons, many of whom occupy prominent public positions, including Congressmen and Secretary Stanton, tendered congratulations.

Speaker Colfax was informed of his nomination this evening, and received the congratulations of many friends, his parlors being thronged by Senators, Representatives and others. Among the callers were the members of Grant's staff. The nominees will be serenaded after they have been formally informed of their nomination.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Dispatches from all parts of the country report salutes fired and other demonstrations, in honor of the nominations at Chicago.

The Tribune predicts Grant's electoral and popular majorities will exceed those of Lincoln over McClellan. "He will receive more votes from the reconstructed rebels than any other man in the country. Under the auspices of Grant and Colfax our country is destined to achieve a speedy restoration to its former prosperity, and more than its former fraternity."

Of the nominations made yesterday, the Herald says Grant is stronger than his party, and Colfax is the most popular man in the party, and that the Republican ticket is a strong one.

The Times says the people have faith in Grant, and the selection of Colfax is eminently judicious.

The Herald says: "The ticket would have been as strong five months ago. It is completely Western and wholly Radical, and Grant is without popular qualities, but a successful military commander, which hides a multitude of defects. Colfax is perhaps the most popular man in the party. On the whole, the ticket is not a strong one."

ST. LOUIS, May 22.—The articles of agreement between the pugilists, Fred. Bussey, of Chicago, and Abe Hiczen, the English bruiser, were signed to-day, and forfeit money put up. The fight is for $5,000, Bussey staking $2,000, and Hicken $1,500. It is to come off on the 15th of July, within fifty miles of St. Louis.

The first race at Lucledo Course, mile heats, three in five, for a purse of $600, was won by Malcolm, in three straight heats, Maggie Hunter coming in second, and Tanglefoot third. Time, 1:50—1:50—1:49. The second race, mile dash, leather weights, purse $250 was won by Rochester, Chapeau Rouge second, Agnes Donovan third, Waterloo fourth, Viola fifth. Time, 1:49½.

ARKANSAS ITEMS.

QUICK TRIP.—The steamer Gleaner, of the Memphis and Arkansas river packet company, which left Memphis on Thursday night last, arrived at our wharf during Saturday night, making the trip in forty-nine hours. This is claimed to be the quickest trip made since the war.—Little Rock Gazette, 19th.

The Batesville Republican terms B. F. Rice the father of the Republican party of Arkansas. The parent and offspring are about worthy of each other.

The Masons of Madison and St. Francis county are moving in the matter of erecting a Masonic hall. So says the Pioneer.

Mrs. Crow, at Little Rock, charged with the murder of Mrs. Hillburne, has been acquitted, an account of which we published some time since.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—The United States Court for the Western District of Arkansas, convened in Van Buren on Thursday last, Judge Caldwell presiding. Major E. D. Ham, District Attorney, Colonel J. O. Churchill, Clerk, and Dr. L. C. White, Marshal. The Grand Jury was empannelled and charged by the Judge on Wednesday last.—Ft. Smith Herald, 16th.

The De Witt Elector says the crop prospect is excellent in Arkansas. The season, so far, has been the best for ten years. The peaches were somewhat injured by frost.

The Press reports the crop prospect as excellent in Chicot.

The Guardian, of the 9th, says:

The locusts have suddenly made their appearance in myriads, and the air is made dreary with their incessant song. They appear to be harmless, spending their brief existence in singing. Horticulturists had better look well to their orchards as they are said to be very destructive of apple trees.

The De Vue Citizen, of the 16th instant, says: "From personal observation and information gathered from all portions of the country, we feel warranted in saying that the prospect for a good crop is better this season than it has been for three years. Corn, of which an abundance is planted, is looking well and growing finely; cotton was never healthier, and our farmers say they never had better stands. The late rains have injured wheat considerably, but still an average crop is expected. Altogether, we have a prospect for a fine harvest."

ASSASSINATION.—On Wednesday last the body of a man was found on the Fort Smith road, about five miles from the city, on the north side of the city. Coroner Webb held an inquest over the body, and the jury returned a verdict of death resulting from a leaden bullet, which entered the occipital part of the cranium, penetrating the lower lobe of the brain. The man appeared to be a Frenchman; he was roughly dressed, and had with him a basket of eggs. As yet his name has not been discovered, although it would appear that he lives near enough the city to bring marketing hither. He was evidently assassinated by some unknown person.—Little Rock Gazette.

YOUNG COTTON.—We have been informed by one of our best farmers that the present growing crop of cotton looks splendid, and that he never saw a better stand than there is in his neighborhood. We regret to learn from him that the present high prices have caused many farmers to plant more cotton and less of the grain crops. They will undoubtedly suffer for their shortsightedness. As they have sown so must they reap.—Jacksonport Herald, 16th.

COMMITTED.—The Sheriff of Randolph county arrived here last Monday evening, with two men, arrested as the murderers of a white man and a negro woman, living together as man and wife, on Current river, about twenty miles from Pocahontas, and committed them to this jail for safe-keeping. The names of the prisoners are Hildebrand and Roberts, and are said to be Missourians.—Herald.

RELEASED.—We learn from Mr. E. Atkins, just returned from Little Rock, that Esquire McDaniel, who was taken from our jail to be tried by military court for killing young Morgan a year ago, has been released, and will be at his home, near Beecher's Ferry, next Friday.—Searcy Record, 16th.

COTTON.—Is up and looking hearty on the lower lands. Some speak of planting more, but we hope will desist. Put in corn, turnips, or any thing else that feeds the inner man. Cotton, we fear, will be low next season. Besides, a heavy crop was planted, under the impression that the tax would be taken off next year, and the present rates of the market encouraged those to plant who had no faith in the former.—Searcy Record.

SOLDIERS.—We had the pleasure, says the Searcy Record of forming the acquaintance of Lieutenant George H. Cook, of the 28th Regular Infantry who has a squad of twelve men at this place. The lieutenant is a pleasant young man, of gentlemanly department and a good soldier. Soldiers of his kind we appreciate, and wouldn't care if the whole of the regiment were stationed here.

The wheat crop is very promising in White county.

NASHVILLE.

Railroads—Conscientious Correspondent—Horticultural Exhibition and Descriptions—Gratifying Discovery—Brownlow vs. Pulpy—National Temperance Convention.

(From our Special Correspondent.)

NASHVILLE, May 21, 1868.

Your veracious correspondent found himself at the St. Cloud early Tuesday morning, after a pleasant trip via the Memphis and Louisville, and Nashville and Northwestern railroads. This is my first trip over the Northwestern road, whose destinies are now controlled by Hon. Frank S. Richards, General Superintendent by grace of Brownlow. By it the time from Memphis to Nashville has been reduced to fourteen hours and forty-five minutes, and the infusion of the efficiency characteristic of Mr. Richards, is telling in every way. The roadbed is good condition, the cars are first-class, and the operatives, so far as contact with them has enabled me to judge, are courteous and obliging. There is outcome in this road, which will cause it to yield handsomely for its owners when the "better time coming" arrives.

My tender regard for one of the commandments forbids me saying that Nashville is lively at present. Hundreds of vehicles do not constantly block up any of the thoroughfares, and policemen are not compelled to take gushing damsels in tow to stem the resistless tide of prancing steeds. No, the pretty creatures gush along with no other interruption than the glances of admiring beaux, who, on shady sides these pleasant mornings, are out in sufficiently formidable force to suggest an abundance of elegant leisure in business circles. At midday two ragged little niggers and an agent of the Freedmen's Bureau constitute a crowd on any Nashville street, and their presence causes the Metropolitans to twirl their batons, and dive down into their pockets for the riot act. Handsome clerks in dry goods establishments lean lazily against the counters discussing the probability of the building over the way tumbling into the streets any time during the next century; and the apparition of a customer induces an agitation to which the defeat of the eleventh article of impeachment was as the flutter of a gossamer. Thus will matters remain until fall, when Commerce and Finance will come out in their finery, roseate with health and vigor, and the queer, Frenchy little streets about the square present a panorama of busy life not to be equaled in the South.

Public amusements are non est, the theaters having closed even before Thespis had his neck broken in Memphis. The only entertainment this week is an exhibition in the Masonic Hall under the auspices of the Tennessee Horticultural Society. The doors were opened Friday, this being the initial of semi-annual exhibitions. The large room is filled with rare flowers of every description, transferred from their beds to earthen or wooden vessels, and looking as fresh as though yet sparkling with dew. They are tastefully disposed to attract the eye, and the portions of the tables not thus occupied are covered with equally fine vegetables. The display is quite creditable to the managers. It develops a progress in horticulture in Middle Tennessee which should stimulate our gardeners in the west. During yesterday and last night the hall was visited by hundreds of ladies and gentlemen, who evinced no little interest in the different species passed in review. I dropped in during the evening to have my horticultural strength renewed; but the array of living beauty encased in crinoline soon caused flowers and strawberries and ruta baga turnips a pass from my memory. Vi et arte forte isn't horticulture, but I marched boldly up to the placards and learned the startling fact that in the collections were some choice treasures in the shape of "yucca variegata," "begonias," "double fuschias," "lycopodium," "velotta atrapruruia," "rhynocspernum," "jasminoides," "gloxenias," and a few "cupheas with spots on the leaves." This quite learned and well-known varieties had been cut down by the frost, and was extremely gratified to discover them. If the rythmical "rhynocspernum" and the sweet "velotta atrapruruia" hadn't been there I should have been distressed, for I am satisfied that when I find out what they are they will be my favorite poetics. As soon as discover an effectual antidote to the lockjaw look for a lengthy letter on horticulture, as embodied in the gushing species whose musical names are paraded above.

The rumor that Governor Brownlow had been gathered to his fathers and other relations is slightly premature, as you are already aware. He is not only not dead, but in better health than usual. The palsy didn't strike him. The story was manufactured by some disloyal cuss, who evidently thought that if the Governor were as saintly as the Freedmen's Bureau preachers represent him, he ought to be an angel, and go through the gold-paved streets of the New Jerusalem, playing "Battle Cry of Freedom" on a hand organ. The palsy hasn't been manufactured that would venture a tussle with Tennessee's "lighted son." Heywood Knock it into a cocked hat in two minutes and a half. Brownlow is a preacher, and his commission, as interpreted by himself, is: "Go ye into all the world, stealing from every creature." Although he has manipulated Tennessee a few years, it still contains several things worth stealing; which being the case, he can't afford to become a cold corpus. Save your tears.

The event of the week is the National Division of the Sons of Temperance, whose annual session commenced in the capitol yesterday. I telegraphed you of it last night. This is one of the most able and dignified bodies ever brought together in the State, and its presence here cannot fail to result in much good to the cause all its members have so earnestly at heart. About one hundred delegates have already made their appearance, representing twenty-two States and the Canadas. Among them are many gentlemen of note in the order, who have labored for many years for the promotion of its objects. The success of the Sons of Temperance, during the past few years, has been remarkable. The order now numbers two million members in the United States and Provinces, and within a twelve month sixty thousand have been drawn within its folds. Tennessee alone contains one hundred divisions, with three thousand members, and the prospect of adding at least fifty per cent by the next annual meeting.

Little business was transacted yesterday beyond effecting the organization and receiving the report of the Most Worthy Patriarch, Mr. John N. Stearns, of New York, who is presiding over the deliberations of the National Division. It is an able document, containing much information of interest to not only the order but the public generally. It evidences a marked progress in the temperance cause throughout the jurisdiction of the National Division, which cannot fail to prove most gratifying to members of the order everywhere. Last night the State Division formally received the National Division at the capitol. The address of welcome was delivered by G. W. P. Dr. George S. Blackie, and M. W. P. John N. Stearns responded on behalf of the National Division. Several other brief addresses were delivered. The attendance of citizens was quite large, and the entire proceedings were characterized by much enthusiasm and good feeling.

The regular order of business is being transacted to-day, and to-morrow the State and National Divisions, accompanied by a large number of citizens, will visit the Hermitage and spend the day in the festivities incidental to picnicing. Two steamers have been chartered for the occasion, and a most pleasant day is anticipated.

NATIONAL TELEGRAPH.

THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY

A NEW enterprise, to be known as the National Telegraph Company, has been organized with valuable franchises secured by a recent act of Congress for the purpose of establishing Trunk Lines of Telegraph on all the principal railroads and mail routes in the United States. The stock is to be based upon the same principle as that of the Merchant's Union Express Company, which recently commenced operations. The design is to interest the entire Southern community in the enterprise. This is done, not so much to dispose of the stock as it is to secure the business of the country which the lines pass.

THE CAPITAL IS TO BE

In 100,000 shares of the par value of

$100 PER SHARE

But the actual amount to be paid in cash is

$35 PER SHARE

and this amount is to be paid as follows: One per cent of the par at the time of subscribing, and no more until the entire capital has been subscribed, and then on calls to be made by the Board of Directors; Installments not to exceed five per cent per month. When thirty-five per cent of the par value of the shares has been paid, certificates of stock will be issued. This will give the Company a paid up

CASH CAPITAL OF $3,500,000

Which will be sufficient to duplicate lines to all or nearly all the paying points reached by the present monopoly.

The present Telegraph Companies throughout the country have been consolidated into one huge monopoly, and are now earning over SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS per year, or twenty-one hundred per cent, on the actual cost of their lines their present capital having been watered over ONE THOUSAND per cent.

THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY have a recognition from the United States Government of the importance of their enterprise, with a grant of the most valuable franchises ever conferred upon a telegraph company. No competing line has ever had the right now granted by Congress to this company to construct and operate lines over every RAILROAD and MAIL ROUTE in the United States. The position of this Comp ny differs from that of any company ever before organized. The question of the HIGHEST VALUE IS FOREVER SETTLED.

The Stockholders of this Company cannot be sold out or TRANSFERRED to any other Company. The act of Congress under which this Company has been organized prohibits any transfer of the franchises granted.

CALLS---HOW TO BE MADE

One per cent of the Stock will be required on subscribing, and subsequent calls, not to exceed five per cent per month, will be made by the Board of Directors, from time to time, as may be necessary, to supply funds to construct and equip the lines; but no calls will be made after the one per cent is paid, until the entire Capital Stock shall have been subscribed

ACTUAL CAPITAL REQUIRED

The Company confidently believe that thirty-five per cent of the Capital Stock will construct and fully equip

25,000 Miles of Wire

Which will connect all the commercial centers and important points in the United States. This estimate is based upon the most reliable estimates and responsible offers to construct and equip the lines.

THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY is organized under the laws of the State of New York, and franchises conferred by an act of Congress, approved July 24, 1866.

President—GEORGE B. SENTER, of Cleveland, Ohio.

COMPANY'S OFFICE,

Nos. 64 and 66 Broadway, New York

A limited amount of the capital stock of this Company is allotted to this locality, and those having an opportunity, and subscribing, will be placed upon equal terms with the corporators, and will secure like interests in all franchises which have accrued, or may hereafter accrue to the Company from any and all sources.

Stock may now be subscribed in this Company at the Office of THE MERCANTILE AGENCY, R. G. DUN & CO., Room No. 8, Commercial Bank Building, corner Main and Madison streets, Memphis, Tenn.

One hundred thousand numbers, representing the Certificates issued, will be placed in one wheel, and five hundred blanks, inscribed with the names of the prizes, to wit: "Paschall House," etc., will be placed in another. From these wheels a number and a prize will be drawn at the same time and the numbers drawn will state the prize drawn with it.

The prizes will be ready for delivery upon the result of the award being known, and the persons by whom the ten real estate prizes are drawn, will receive deeds to the same, with the clear and unencumbered.

All money received upon the sale of these Certificates will be placed in responsible banking houses of St. Louis, Missouri, to the credit of the Association, and paid over to the holders of the Certificates, upon the drawing taken place.

SATURDAY, : : : : : MAY 23, 1868

GRANT and COLFAX! They are just as strong as impeachment, and that is dying by inches, but the monster may linger long enough to give much trouble to the country. They are no stronger than any two Radicals would be. Neither of them has any mesmeric power, and can command no enthusiasm. GRANT has nothing to go upon but his military services. That is all his stock in trade, and can be easily invoiced. That operation will speedily take place. His pretensions to military merit will be discussed in the newspaper columns and on the stump, by the fiery pens and tongues of Democrats. His whole military round, from Cairo to Richmond, will be subjected to the most searching scrutiny. Hitherto we have had only the glory side of his career. We shall now have the other side from men whose means of information cannot be disputed. We shall hear something about the man as he is—his inner nature and his personal habits. We shall know it all, and when the information arrives, the people will posses data upon which to form a proper estimate of the man. His eulogists and biographers have given the world nothing at all likely to endear the man to the people—no private traits, no personal charm, no illustrations of an unselfish nature, and nothing to indicate that he sympathizes with the great masses of mankind. We do not assert that he is deficient in this respect; but we must so infer from the absence of any proofs, or attempts to establish a contrary belief. But we hear a great deal of his tenacity, obstinacy and desperate energy. We hear much of the inevitable cigar always in his mouth. If we credit his eulogists, he moves in a cloud of smoke, and from the vacant corner of his mouth talks "horse" by the hour. The great NAPOLEON shed tears over the dead of Marengo. We have not heard that GRANT ever shed a tear over the gasping thousands whom he drove to slaughter upon so many fields. He may have done so. He may have dispensed with his cigar long enough to hand a cup of water to a wounded soldier; but the proofs of such an act are not at our command. We shall not believe that they exist until we are furnished with them. He is now placed in a position that exposes him to attack and dissection. No longer the simple General, devoted to the discharge of the duties of his office, he becomes the target of a great party, and will not be spared. Resting his pretensions to the Presidency upon his military character solely, it is legitimate to investigate that basis with all the scrutiny, force and talent at the command of a great party. His career is open now to attack, and all the instruments of party warfare will be seized and hurled at him with merciless severity. And he can have no right to complain. The National Democracy intend to destroy the Radical party. GRANT steps forth as its leader and representative. Argument, wit, burlesque, ridicule, will be hurled at him. Denunciation even will strike him and tear him to pieces. JACKSON, HARRISON, SCOTT and TAYLOR, when they became the leaders of party, were not spared. Why should GRANT be? He has no claim to immunity which they did not possess. He is now a politician, with all the sins of the Radical party on his back. He carries them all and makes himself their champion. He carries negro suffrage, negro superiority, negro everything in a budget with impeachment, untaxed bonds and the whole catalogue of Jacobin monstrosities. He owns them, and must stand or fall with them. He commits himself to the doctrine that impeachment of his Commander-in-Chief is not a judicial proceeding but a party measure, and that the Senate, when sitting as a court, is not bound by the oath administered by the Chief Justice. As the course of his party is revolutionary, so is his course. If it shall be destroyed, he will go down with it.

POOR STANTON! We say poor, because there are none to do him reverence. He has not only ruined himself, but has slaughtered his friends. He provoked impeachment, and has died by impeachment. When SATAN fell, it is said a third part of the angels fell with him. But when STANTON fell, he pulled the whole Radical party down. It was a part of the programme of the enemies of Mr. JOHNSON, that STANTON should stick to the War Office, like a bristle to a waxed-end, and force an issue out of which impeachment should grow. It was necessary, in order to accomplish the end in view, that he should betray the President, and he did it without scruple. It was necessary that he should render himself an object of loathing, and he did it. It was necessary that he should bring the quarrel to a speedy culmination by resisting the authority of the President, and he did it. There was no hesitation, no delay. The House, lying in wait for the opportune moment, seized upon it, hurried up articles of impeachment, thundered, raved, sniffled, cried, blustered and blubbered for three months. Nobody inside the Radical camp tolerated any other conclusion than that of the conviction and deposition of the President, and the triumph of STANTON and the Radical party. STANTON was to come out of the controversy covered with glory, and the "treely loil" party was to possess the Presidency, restore its constitutional authority, wield its patronage, and win the Presidential election. The Senate was not doubted. Impeachment was a party measure, not a judicial proceeding. CHASE, long the leader of the Abolitionists and the father of all the greenbacks, was counted on as certain. Well, it is all over except a vote on the remaining ten articles, and STANTON hangs upon those frail splinters from the wreck of the impeachment vessel. Desperate are the chances of escape, but desperate is the man. If the other articles shall not be withdrawn they will be voted down. Then, what will the great War Minister do? Will the Senate not have decided that the President has the right to dismiss him? Will he defy the Senate, the people, honor, everything, and call upon GRANT to protect him? These are the serious questions, and STANTON will answer them seriously, and, it is believed, in the spirit of his previous conduct, having reference only to the wishes of his party. But can he remain in the War Office? Has he no sensibility, no delicacy, no personal honor, no self-respect? Can he sleep in the War Office on two chairs while the tempestuous wrath of the people rages about him like a tempest? To do so, he will prove himself something more than man, and more or less than man he is. Fallen from the high position of leader of his party, he seems to be content to be counted its slave. If the party is to be destroyed, his single person is to symbolize that destruction. Wonderful man! Posterity will do him justice. But what manner of justice will it be?

TO-MORROW we will publish a long communication from "Stonewall," written in the interests of Grand Junction, and replying to "Mississippi," of Holly Springs.

THE following valuable article should have preceded the one which appeared yesterday from the same masterly mind and pen. The writer deals in plain home truths, and our entire people should hear what he has to say:

EDS. AVALANCHE: There are forty-three vacant stores on Main street, between Poplar and Beale. How many are vacant on the same street above Poplar and below Beale, and how many on other streets, I cannot tell. It is significant enough of the future, to know that on the principal business street of the city, and in its very heart, may be counted forty-three vacant storerooms to-day. Two years and half ago no store-room or private dwelling in the city could remain unoccupied one week. They were often rented before completion, at prices that made landlords and tenants alike giddy. It may be useless for us to inquire into the causes for such a change. The change exists. Every merchant and every mechanic feels it. Some may think it indiscreet to write about such things in the newspapers. They foolishly hope that no body will find out that our trade is waning and our stores vacant, if the papers will not talk of it. They forget that this very scarcity of business is driving hundreds of our people to seek other points; and that each of these has his story to tell of the "dead times" in a city, which, two years ago, was the Mecca of thousands. Their stories are uncontradicted; and they are not calculated to invite new comers. The outside world is thus daily learning through other channels than our daily papers, the fact so interesting to every property holder and business citizen of the town—viz: that Memphis is losing her trade. Shall we attempt to conceal this fact, and let the evil grow worse and worse, or shall we frankly admit it and set about remedying it if remedy be possible? It is sheer folly to say that high rents have driven trade from Memphis. Like everything else, rents are governed by the general law of supply and demand; and they are always highest when business is most prosperous—always lowest when business is waning.

Memphis is now suffering from two causes. The first is the want of a reliable laboring population; the second is the influence which other rival cities are exerting through rival lines of railroads. With your permission, I propose to discuss these questions through the columns of your very popular journal, and attempt to convince our citizens that they can do much toward correcting both of these evils. To do so, they must arouse some of that old spirit of emulation, enterprise and pride that pre-eminently distinguished them fifteen years ago. They must lay aside the idea that it is time for each man to think of his own interest only; they must believe that the interest of one is the interest of all; and that, by the joint action and earnest co-operation of all, the good of each may be best promoted. The people of Memphis are to-day enacting the parable of the rich man's feast, so beautifully told by St. Luke. Whenever a combined effort, an earnest co-operation of all, is desired, each has some excuse for withholding his presence or his aid and counsel. One is buying a lot of cotton, another is shipping a lot of corn, a third is making out an invoice of dry goods just sold; a fourth is collecting his monthly rents, a fifth is hunting a debtor, and a sixth dodging a creditor. Thus, through one cause or another, no one takes a special interest in what deeply concerns all; and our city's trade and prospects are drooping, without a combined, strong effort to remedy the evil. I do not say we can do all we would; but I do insist that we can do much, if our people will exercise a little of the public spirit that once moved them. The question of most moment is the scarcity of reliable laborers of our soil. The experience of three years has convinced all that the negroes are naturally too indolent, too prone to seek their ease and pleasure; too improvident and too indifferent to the future, ever to become good agriculturists. As a general rule, they care nothing about accumulating, unless it may be by theft, and this disposition or propensity is so general and ungovernable that the farmers in many localities, in this State and Mississippi do not think of attempting to raise hogs, once a staple product of the State. In Mississippi thousands of planters apprehend that the profits anticipated from their present most promising fruit crops will vanish this summer through the depredations of these Bureau pets. Is it not an alarming condition of things when our best citizens—our tax-payers, our crop raisers, the men whose industry and toil support "the best Government the world ever saw"—are made to feel that they can protect their property and the fruits of their industry only with guns in their hand? Think of it as we may, assign for it what cause we may, the ominous fact stares us all in the face, that the negroes are unreliable as laborers and dishonest as citizens, and that, as freemen, they have always cursed the richest spots of earth and made them but waste places. This condition of our labor system bodes no good to the country at large. To the North it means the future want of the raw materials upon which her commerce and manufactures have flourished. To the South it means taxation, pauperism and ruin.

The magnitude of the questions may be estimated when it is stated that, before the war, there were 4,000,000 negroes in the South—2,000,000 between the ages of fifteen and sixty, and, therefore, efficient laborers. Now the females do but little field work, and if we deduct the men and boys who have gone to the cities, towns, villages, etc, enjoying city life—not producers, but still consumers—we shall not have one million left—one million of lazy laborers to do the work formerly done by two millions! and these ones, it may therefore be safely said that our producing force, in the South, has been reduced just one hundred per cent since the war; while the consumers have not been reduced more than ten per cent.

For this there seems to be but one remedy, and that is to begin at the root of the evil at once. The resources of our land are wonderful, but they will lie dormant until we can get among us a stable population of honesty, industry and intelligence, in numbers sufficient to redeem us from our present deplorable state. How that may be done I will attempt to show in another number.

ALBANY.

ALBANY, May 23.

The Old School Presbyterian Assembly reassembled to-day. The report of the Joint Committee of the Old and New School Churches, appointed in 1866, was presented. It recommends reunion on the following basis:

First—The union shall be effected on the doctrinal and the confessional basis of our common standard. The acceptance of the old and new testaments shall be acknowledged as the inspired word of God, and the only infallible rule of faith and practice. The confession of faith shall continue to be received as containing the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures.

Second—All the ministers and churches embraced in the two bodies shall be admitted to the same standing in the united body which they may hold in their respective connections up to the consummation of the union.

Third—The boundaries of the several Presbyteries and Synods shall be adjusted by the general assembly of the united church.

Fourth—The official records of each branch shall be held as making up the history of the church, and no rule which does not stand approved by both shall be of any authority until re-established in the united church, except so far as such rule may effect the right of property.

Fifth—The corporate rights now held by the two General Assemblies shall be consolidated and applied for their several objects as defined by law.

Sixth—There shall be one set of committees of boards for home and foreign missions and other religious enterprises of the church.

Seventh—As soon as practicable the General Assembly shall reconstruct and consolidate the several permanent committees and boards which now belong to the two Assemblies.

Eighth—The publications of the Board of Publication and the Publication Committee shall continue to be issued as at present, leaving it to the Board of Publication of the United Church to revise these issues.

Ninth—Those theological seminaries that are under Assembly control may, if their boards so elect, be transferred to the care of one or more of the adjacent Synods.

Tenth—It is agreed that the Presbyteries shall possess the right to examine ministers applying for admission from other Presbyteries, but each Presbytery shall be left free to decide for itself when it shall exercise that right.

Eleventh—It shall be regarded as the duty of all our judicatories, ministers and people in the united Church, to study the things which make our peace, to guard against all needless and offensive reference to the causes that have divided us.

Twelfth—The terms of the union, if they are approved by the General Assemblies of 1868, shall be turned over to the several Presbyteries under their care, and shall be of binding force, if ratified by three-fourths of the Presbyteries connected with each branch of the church within one year after they shall have been submitted for their approval.

It was then resolved to take up at once this plan for reunion, and continue the discussion without other interruption.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, May 23.

The President of the Republican Convention, George R. Hawley, will be at Washington Friday, May 29th, for the purpose of notifying General Grant and Mr. Colfax of their nominations, and present them with the resolutions of the Convention. All the officers of the Convention are requested to be present, and the only practicable notice to them is thus given: A committee of the "Sailors' and Soldiers' Convention" will be there at the same time, for the purpose of presenting to General Grant their nomination and platform.

ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, May 22.

The first race at the Laclede Course to-day was a two-mile dash for $400, the winner of the first heat to get $150. Meek's Zero (mare) took the first money, and Queen of the West won the race, Pat. Cleburne second, Chapeau Rouge third, Veto fourth, Elgin fifth, Agnes Donovan sixth, Rochester seventh, and Zero (mare) eighth. Time 3, 4, 5¾.

SECOND RACE—Three mile heats, free for all; premium, $600. Plantagenet ran two straight heats, beating Ruth and Jim Walker. Contest very close between Plantagenet and Ruth last half mile. First heat, stated by timer and three other persons, to have been made in 4834; second time of race, 5:483/4—5:41¾. Weather still fair. Attendance to-day unusually large.

NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, May 22.

The National Division of the Sons of Temperance have selected Washington and the second Monday in June, 1869, as the place and time of holding their next annual meeting.

The Division went on an excursion to-day by steamboat, to the Hermitage, to attend the celebration of the 23d—the anniversary of the Grand Division of Tennessee.

The anniversary address was delivered by Rev. A. A. Young.

The afternoon was spent in a picnic on the Hermitage grounds. Large numbers of ladies and gentlemen participated.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, May 22.

The Fenians are preparing another raid from St. Albans. It is expected to take place somewhere between the first and tenth of June. The preparations indicate a more serious affair than any previous raid. Ammunition for active service is to be given to the volunteers.

On Wednesday next, 26th instant, the great McCoole and Coburn fight will take place somewhere in Indiana. An immense crowd will attend, and sporting characters from every part of the country will be on hand in strong force. The encounter will be within fifty miles of Cincinnati.

On Sunday evening a young girl named Margaret McGinnis, while walking on a high bluff above Everson & Prescott's rolling mill, in Pittsburg, was seized with an epileptic fit, fell over a bank two hundred feet, and was horribly mangled, and died in about an hour.

A movement is said to be on foot to establish a first class Democratic paper, with a capital of $150,000, at Louisville. So says the Louisville Courier, which is doubtless interested.

Nashville is jubilant over the late election which resulted in favor of subscribing stock to the Tennessee and Pacific Railroad, which is to connect that city with Knoxville. Work will probably commence in two or three weeks.

The body of an unknown man was found floating in the Ohio river, opposite Aurora, Indiana, on the 13th. It was supposed to be that of Captain Prather, of the ill-fated Magnolia.

There will be nothing, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, but Grant at the Chicago Convention, and nothing of him afterward.

New Albany rejoices in a French hermit, who lives in a hollow tree, and thrives about as well as some who are more pretentious.

General Hancock and the Presidency.

[From the New Orleans Picayune.]

It is said that the nomination of a man "having a good war record," would go well at the East, and everywhere would gain votes from those who recoil from Radicalism, but are, nevertheless, of the triumphant Union party of the war; but this is answered by declaring that such a man, if his adhesion to the war policy was sufficiently open, public, and well defined as to leave no cavil, would lose as many more of the peace Democrats, and be not at all satisfactory to the South. We would suggest to these peace Democrats that a man who could be satisfactory to the South, ought not to be balked at by them. If a man can be found who was unquestionably part and parcel of the war on the Federal side, who was in it and out of it to the last, who gathered its brightest and most unfading laurels, and stood at the close of it in the front rank of its military leaders, and yet has so much the respect and confidence of the Southern people that they believe he will prove to be an intelligent, discriminating, just, generous, law-abiding, and constitution-respecting civil ruler, that he has the intellectual capacity and clear appreciation of the duties and principles of statesmanship which qualify him for the Presidency, would it not be presumptuous for the peace Democrats of the North to refuse to accept him? The South has found such a man in General Winfield S. Hancock, and we of Louisiana can speak of him the more earnestly and unreservedly now that he has been removed from the command over us, that if, being yet here, it might be thought that we were trying to obtain his favor, or thus sought to deprecate his displeasure. He has no power to interfere in any manner with our affairs, nor is he likely to again be placed over us unless by an election to the Presidency; and we can speak of him without the least suspicion of our having aught at heart except the general good. As a general thing, it is not well to remove a man from the army into the Presidency; but this is because his habits and the tendency of his mind would lead him to govern militarily and despotically, and to disregard the principles of constitutional law and the maxims of civil government. General Hancock has shown, with a precision of language and a clearness of utterance which few civilians have rivaled, that this would not be the case were he chosen. And we here give our Northern friends the assurance that no counsellor or amanuensis furnishes him either with ideas or style for those matchless orders of his which averred that we had not yet lost our heritage of a civil government. In such a name as this the South can and does place its confidence even the more than if he had not fought bravely and with distinguished skill against it in the late civil war. He was a soldier by profession, and a native of the section on whose side he fought. He has shown equal civil with his great military capacity, and the South has had an opportunity to try him. If our Northern friends find difficult to choose a candidate in whom both the war and peace Democrats might have confidence, let them chose the man who has proved to be the best friend the South has had since the war ended, and whose brilliant career as a soldier should gain for him every Northern vote which is not sworn away to Radicalism.

The Shieldsboro (Mississppi) Gazette says that a bottle was picked up on the beach by a Mr. Muniz, of that town, and in it was found the following note:

OFF ISLE BRETON.

Wind east, blowing a gale; running under double-reefed jib; five feet water in the hold. Brig "Ocean Wave," January 1st, 1867.

It is supposed this brig was lost off the mouth of the Mississippi.

THE Radical Bulletin is greatly exercised lest it should not be sustained by the Conservatives and disfranchised people of Memphis. We will speak of the subject again when we have time to notice little things.

The highly colored jailor of Nashville has been sued for $5,000 damages for hard cuffing and keeping in a cell two days and nights a man named Wm. Bradly, without a writ or other legal process.

The cricket season has been inaugurated at Louisville. The first game was played Wednesday.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Rev. Banas X. Sears, D.D., agent of the Peabody fund, will be here soon.

The picnic of the church of the Good Shepherd will take place at Ford's, in Chelsea, to day.

All accounts agree that thus far the crops in Arkansas are splendid.

Only five arrests were made by the police yesterday, and those were for trivial offenses.

Three gamblers were arrested yesterday on the steamer Julia, which arrived here, for beating two greenhorns out of some money—one hundred and fifty dollars.

Main street is enlivened every pretty afternoon, like yesterday, by many beautiful ladies promenading, and gay equipages dash over the splendid pavements.

In the absence of the Sheriff, who went to Chicago, we notice one of his Deputies driving a very fine double team.

Colonel C. Carrol Hicks, the well known actor who has so many friends in Memphis, has gone to practising law in Aiken county, Indiana.

Pewter nickels are very abundant in the city. Some people take them on the ground that it is better to have pewter than no money at all.

We are gratified to learn from the Vicksburg Times that Major E. P. Byrne is improving, with fair prospects for his ultimate recovery. This will be good news for his thousands of friends.

Thomas R. Cocke, Esq., of Somerville, who was elected to the newly created office of County Judge, in March, has at last received his commission, and in future the monthly and quarterly courts will be regularly held at the proper time.

That vile old wretch, "General" James Hickman, of Nashville, has withdrawn his suit, which has been pending some time in the courts, against that gallant soldier and noble gentleman, General William B. Bate.

On account of the absence of the members of the bar, who were in attendance upon the Supreme Court at Brownsville, the term of the Chancery Court at Somerville, which should have been held last week, is postponed until the fifth Monday in June.

A "colored lady," who was formerly a negro, shot herself accidentally in the pocket, in Lytle's grocery store, 141 Poplar street, yesterday morning. So much for carrying concealed weapons. The wound was serious and officer Hollis had her carried home.

A prisoner in this city, who needs friends to assist him out of a tight place, is exceedingly anxious to reveal where $20 000 of Confederate money is buried in the city dateliest ground. So far we have got nothing for working up such jobs, and they will have nothing to do with it.

The Des Arc (Arkansas) Crescent has been sold to Messrs. Holt & Bancroft, who will remove the material to Drew's Bluff, change the politics of the paper to the Radical side, and call it the White River Journal. By the time all these changes are made the Crescent will be pretty well disguised.

Why is it that there are no Government detectives in Memphis? In no city of the same size are they so badly needed. Frauds are daily practiced against the Government, and it is well known there is a depot here for shoving the "gum"—putting counterfeit money in circulation.

A negro named Rodolph Anderson was arraigned yesterday before Esquire Gibson for stealing a horse on Main street the day before, and drawing a pistol on an officer. He plead guilty, but said he had orders from a mean looking man named Wickersham, or something of that sort, who holds an office. The plea was overruled, and the offender, the negro, sent up in default of $3,000 bail.

The Varieties still flourish, and draw large, delighted crowds nightly. To-night Miss Helen Devere, who has been such a favorite here for many months, will make her last appearance on the stage previous to going to Nashville. Miss Howland also makes her parting bow. Misses Millie and Fannie Florence, who have just closed a brilliant engagement in Washington City, have arrived, and will make their debut at this favorite resort on Monday evening.

Nashville is moving in the matter of a new telegraph line out of the Atlantic and Pacific company. If a subscription of $20,000 to $25,000 of stock is made, the lines will be extended to Nashville within fifteen days thereafter. There will be no calling a meeting until the line is more nearly completed, and then only forty per cent. The company is solvent, being entirely free from debt, and has for the past three years paid ten per cent. dividend. Then the company will take steps to extend on the west to Memphis. Competition is the life of business.

A meeting was held in the Gayoso block by a number of young men to establish a Lyceum, or Young Men's Literary Association. Dr. F. L. Sim was Chairman and W. J. Smith, Secretary. A committee of Mr. Charlie Coffin, Dr. P. D. I. Grasty and Mr. W. C. Griswold was appointed. A committee to draft a constitution and by-laws, to report at the next regular meeting, at the same place, next Thursday evening, was also appointed. We hope the laudable move will be encouraged and sustained.

The case of the State vs. J. M. Maxwell for the murder of Major John H. Hicks, near Stanton depot on the 28th of February last, was brought before Judge Reeves on Monday last in Somerville, on a writ of habeas corpus upon application for bail. The testimony was concluded about eleven o'clock on Tuesday morning. The court rejused to let the prisoner to bail and remanded him to the jail of Tipton county. The prosecution was represented by Hon. Landon C. Haynes, of Memphis, and Attorney General Reeves, and the prisoner by Messrs. H. A. Rogers, Fred. Maslin and E. H. Shelton. The cause was submitted without argument.

The asylum is pleasantly located at Nos. 40 and 42 North Court street, where, if desired, rooms can be secured, and where the Doctor can be privately consulted from eight a.m. to eight p.m.

Mr. Carswell, late of Canada, who has been traveling throughout the United States, and has been winning an enviable reputation as an eloquent and successful lecturer, will visit this city during the ensuing week. We would say to one and all, go and hear him, and your conclusion we will be that words are but a poor medium to ascribe his worth, and that all we could say in his favor would not be amiss.

FACTS FOR TAX-PAYERS.

A Freedmen's Bureau Maintained at the Expense of the County.

J. W. Smith's Toll-Gates to Drive off the Country Trade.

Earnest Appeal to the People.

County Affairs, Bridges, Etc., Etc.

EDITORS AVALANCHE: Gentlemen—Having a little spare time, I have concluded to give you a few hints concerning certain matters of interest to the tax-payers and good citizens of Shelby county.

My mind has been brought to these reflections by my observations during the last few days, and I feel confident that if the public was fully advised, they would not longer tolerate the outrages now being perpetrated by certain functionaries.

At all hours of the day, a large crowd of black vagrants, both male and female, can be seen hovering around the doors of the County Court House, with baskets, bags, etc., ready to receive their daily supplies, to support them in idleness, from the bountiful hands of the Commissioners. They come, not as decrepid, sick and disabled invalids, but hale, hearty, fat and saucy, and when upbraided for their indolence defiantly assert that they came because they had orders to come, but cautiously refused to exhibit the name signed to their orders. One woman remarked that she had $550 in cash, and did not care whether she got anything or not. Thus you see, Messrs. Editors, how the enormous taxes extorted from us are distributed among the lazy negroes who hang around, like so many buzzards over a dead carcass.

I see by reference to the proceedings of the County Commissioners a proposition to increase the salary of G. W. Waldran, Judge of Municipal Court, from $2,500, to $4,500. All this is very grateful to him, who, by-the-by, is a very clever gentleman, but I would refer the Honorable Commissioners to section 7, article 6, of that obsolete document called the Constitution of the State of Tennessee, which expressly provides that the salary of Judges "shall not be increased or diminished during the time for which they are elected." Thus, to enable the Judge to enjoy this munificent donation out of other people's money, he will have to resign and submit his claims before the people for a new lease on the office.

Again, I would have the public know that W. J. Smith, during the last session of the Legislature, of which he was a member, obtained a charter authorizing certain favorites (being a secret partner) to erect toll bridges across Nonconnah creek, in four places, viz: in Hollow Ford, Hernando, Horn Lake and Pigeon Roost roads, and also over Wolf river at Raleigh, with fifty years to run with privilege to collect tolls, etc. Thus you see, Memphis will be picketed with toll bridges in so much that her commerce and intercourse with the people of the country will be heavily taxed and obstructed by these most intolerable monopolies.

I am credibly informed that this company have seized three of the county's bridges over Nonconnah, and are now collecting tolls from the people who paid the tax to build the bridges; that said bridges were recently built by the county at an expense of $2,500, $1,700 and $1,200, respectively. Yet the pretext for granting these charters was, that the county was not able to build the bridges. Will the people of the county, will the citizens of Memphis submit to the establishment of such barriers against free trade and free travel? Why do not the County Commissioners protect their valued against such usurpations, or have they an interest in the perquisites? Let us have a mass meeting of the citizens of the city and county, and give expression to our condemnation of these outrages upon our rights before it is too late—before the great anaconda envelopes us in his chilling embrace, and squeezes the last drop of life's blood out of us. Let us take steps to enjoin the General and his partners. TAX-PAYER.

THRILLING EVENT AT HELENA

A Female School and Several Families Prostrated.

We learn by a gentleman directly from Helena of a frightful occurrence, which had thrown consternation and intense excitement over that city. Over forty persons were poisoned by partaking of ice cream last Wednesday, and it was feared a number of them would die. They were in a critical condition, and the entire community was greatly agitated.

The particulars that we were able to gather are briefly as follows: The proprietor of an ice cream saloon, a Frenchman, made up a large quantity of ice cream, the first of the season, and it was distributed gratis, and freely partaken of by his friends. Shortly afterward, all who tasted the cream were seized with violent pain, and the most of them were prostrated, and in a critical condition when our informant passed the city. Four members of the Frenchman's family were among those afflicted.

Mr. Coolidge, the telegraph operator, and his wife, were both down, and the recovery of the latter was considered doubtful.

The same fatal ice cream had been sent to the Female College and freely partaken of by the young ladies, and they were all dangerously taken down. Various others were likewise afflicted.

The doctors had analyzed some of the cream. They pronounced the poison to be arsenic. There were no well defined conjectures in regard to the cause of the terrible affair. Whether it was the work of some malicious fiend, or one of those terrible accidents which decimate and appal a whole community, are questions which future investigations may answer; but in the meantime the catastrophe remains unexplained. We will endeavor to lay further particulars before our readers at an early day.

The Commanding Interests of the Mississippi Valley.

EDITORS AVALANCHE: You state that our Chamber of Commerce will send delegates to the convention to be held at St. Louis, in June next, relative to the interests common to this Valley, the Lakes and the Gulf. This looks like work, and I trust the City Council will also take action. The Chairman is known as a public-spirited citizen, and we now need the energetic action of men. The productions, wealth, resources and commerce involved in one common destiny are so vast and commanding that the people from Lakes to Gulf must speak as with one voice. That voice, the echo of the sentiments and interests of millions, will be heard and heeded by the National Congress. The means and measures required to redeem the richest and largest portion of this Valley from utter ruin are beyond the reach of individuals or States, and the Government should be brought to see at once that it alone can and must apply the remedy. CITIZEN.

A LEADING HOUSE.—We take great pleasure in calling attention to the firm of Matthews, Judson & Co., whose advertisement has been in our columns some days. They are in a line of business that especially commends itself to the Southern people. If this country is ever built up it must be done by the application of improved labor-saving machinery and free use of the best agricultural implements. This is their line. They are the only firm of the kind in the city, and being experienced and practical men, they are prepared to furnish reapers, mowers, threshers, gins, saw mills, shingle machines, plows, wagons, steam engines, and every variety of plantation machinery and implements at a fraction above manufacturer's prices. Their mammoth house at 334 Second street, is a sight worth going to see, and we advise our country readers to give them a call. The members of the firm are known and respected nearly all over the South. Captain Bob Matthews, as gallant a soldier as ever followed the standard of Morgan, is one of the most promising and popular business young men in the South. Colonel Judson has his hosts of friends everywhere; was formerly a merchant of this city, and for many years Sheriff of Yallobusha county, Mississippi. Mr. A. B. Judson, the junior member, is a splendid business man and a thorough gentleman, and his long experience as a bank president fits him well for any business position.

PERSONAL.—Colonel J. P. Pryor, of LaGrange, Tennessee, well known in journalistic circles, has been in the city a day or two, and is stopping at the Central Hotel, Adams street, otherwise favorably known to all the town and country people of West Tennessee, North Mississippi and Eastern Arkansas, as the "Hardwicke House." To all of whom it will be good news to learn that L. C. Hardwicke, Billy Patterson and Andrew Haight, Esq., have recently taken possession of and reopened said house under the most favorable auspices. See their card in another column.

TO LOUISVILLE AND BACK AGAIN.—A well dressed young man of this city, J. S. Dunlap, alias Dr. J. J. Pinkard, hired a horse last Tuesday night of Mr. Maddock, on Main, above the Overton, to go five miles out on Hernando road, as he said, and return immediately. He stood not upon the order of his going or stopping, but kept on to Somerville, which is about five miles multiplied by ten. There his memory failed him, just after he got his dinner at the Delta, and he went off without paying his bill. The landlord cared nothing about the money, but thought he was entitled to more respect than that, so he lodged his memory safely by having him jugged. It was here that the Dunlap happened to remember that his name was "Dr. J. J. Pinkard. In the meantime Mr. Maddock hired a buggy and came to Memphis Monday morning, that it took that fellow a long time to go five miles and back, and whether it wouldn't be better to charge him hotrage instead of mileage, when he was in search of that horse, buggy and man could be had in Somerville. He was surprised that Dunlap had made such rapid progress toward Nashville; but with a view to help his customer to complete the journey, he went out to Somerville and had the melancholy youth returned to the city yesterday morning. For further particulars, see County Jail.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF BANKERS AND MERCHANTS.—There will be a meeting of our business men, this afternoon, at the Chamber of Commerce, at four o'clock, to take some action relative to the extension of the Pacific and Atlantic and Southern Telegraph lines to Memphis.

George H. Thurston, President of the corporations, and A. C. Brodnax, Esq., of Louisville, presented the subject to an informal meeting of some of our more prominent bankers and merchants yesterday, at the First National Bank, when it was concluded to hold a formal meeting, as announced above; so that a full explanation of the workings of the corporations may be made to our business men, en masse, by Messrs. Thurston and Brazin. We hope all will be prompt in attendance, as the subject is one interesting to every business man.

THE TOURNAMENT.—We have unintentionally neglected to call attention to the advertisement of the Grand Tournament to come off here on the 17th of June. This neglect did not spring from any uncertainty in the matter, for of its success we have no doubt; but was entirely overlooked in a press of other matter. The premiums offered are superb; everything will be conducted on regle. A number of knights are already enrolled, and no time should be lost in closing the lists, and those desiring to participate in the interesting and graceful contests should enter their names at once. We shall take occasion to speak of the proposed Tournament as the day approaches on which the prowess of the Knights is to be tested.

Ghosts of perfumes would be the proper appellation for the evanescent odors of the day. Paslon's new perfume, "FLOR DE MAYO," differs from these in three essential points; it is infinitely richer, infinitely purer, and infinitely more lasting and refreshing, than any other floral extract, American or European. Sold by all druggists.

DR. JARIS.—His appointed time in Memphis having terminated, he will in future be addressed at his home office, Nos 9 and 11 Monteigh street, Chelsea, Illinois. Read his card in another column.

Copartnership.

WE, the undersigned, have this day formed a copartnership for the purpose of doing a general Commission and Cotton business, under the name, style and firm of DAVIS & STEWART, at the office formerly occupied by Davis & Norton, No. 276 Front street.

RIVER NEWS.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
SATURDAY, May 23.

BOATS LEAVING TO-DAY.

Liberty No. 2	WHITE RIVER	5 P.M.
Belle St. Louis	ST. LOUIS	5 P.M.
Richmond	LOUISVILLE	5 P.M.
Cowan	CINCINNATI	5 P.M.
R. E. Lee	NEW ORLEANS	5 P.M.

BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

Weather clear and pleasant. The river here rose one and a half inches in the past twenty-four hours, and has risen thirteen inches altogether, which brings it up to the high stage attained in April. At St. Louis the river is declining rapidly, as is also the upper streams. The Ohio is falling fast from Pittsburg to Evansville, with fifteen feet in the canal. The Lower Ohio will be falling by to-day, and by Sunday we think the river here will come to a stand. White river is falling, with a good stage of water in the river. The St. Francis river is still on the decline. The Arkansas river is declining, with three and a half feet in the channel from Fort Smith to Little Rock, and six and a half feet from there out.

ARRIVALS.

Steamer Bismarck, St. Louis.
" Belle St. Louis, St. Louis.
" Liberty No. 2, White river.
" W. A. Caldwell, Fort Smith.
" Julia, Vicksburg.

DEPARTURES.

Steamer Bismarck, New Orleans.
" Julia, St. Louis.

BOATS IN PORT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

There was very little doing on the wharf yesterday, aside from the receiving of the Darling. She made a fair show, in getting several lots of freight and 300 bales of cotton. Including all, she picked up a respectable trip.

The Julia passed up last night. She was sold at St. Louis on Wednesday, by the Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company to Messrs. James H. Lockhart, David Campbell, Fred. Sebastian and John N. Bofinger for $25,000. Captain Lockhart will assume command of the Julia, and retain her in the Vicksburg trade.

The Bismarck passed down yesterday morning for New Orleans well loaded. Mrs. Murray, a passenger on her, destined for this city, gave birth to a healthy K.K. K. a few miles above here, who was named Samuel Entreken Bismarck Murray, in honor of the boat and the clerk, Mr. Entreken, who acted as midwife.

The Darling laid over until to-day, to wait for some engagements. She will leave promptly at three p.m. for Cairo and Cincinnati. Captain Law Yates commands, with Mr. J. F. Powers, a clever gentleman, in charge of the office.

The river man of the Louisville Courier, who is never so happy as when unhappy, and trying to make others so, says the people of Memphis are more pretensious than sincere, and do not practice what they preach about establishing steamboat lines. He cites the Pargoud, a splendid boat, which came into the trade too late to succeed. The freight carried off by the Commonwealth was engaged by her agents before it was known the Pargoud was coming. Under these circumstances it was no wonder the gallant Captain Tobin met some disappointment. We admit, however, that Memphis merchants as a body are destitute of enterprise, co operation and foresight. Their policy is to grasp the present time and risk even getting a dollar in the future. They would open a hill of newly plowed corn to take up the seed rather than wait for the stalk to grow up and produce an ear. But this has nothing to do with the present issue. Memphis does as much for Louisville and New Orleans boats as Louisville does herself in the way of passengers and freights. Boats claimed by Louisville are forced to rely on other points for freights. Captain Tobin is a nice gentleman, but Owen must find a man to succeed here. He staid about his boat while others would have been out among the people making friends and business. When Louisville can sustain a line without Memphis, and all the landings between, it will be time for them to dictate terms to those dependent on them. The aristocratic "cuss" on the Courier, who arrogates so much authority to himself, knows little about river matters down this way than he does about Louisville stern-wheel dinkeys, which he styles fine boats.

The Jacob Sass, a small side-wheel boat, built at Leavenworth in 1865, struck a snag on Tuesday, in the Missouri, and sank. She was was probably worth $10,000.

The elegant passenger steamer Rubicon, in command of Captain Blake, will leave the wharf to-day at five o'clock p.m., for Vicksburg and all way points in the bends. Mr. Alf. Grissom is her attentive purser.

The W. A. Caldwell, Captain Rube Haines, is receiving for the Arkansas river, and leaves on Monday. Jack Chambers, the famous Arkansaw Traveler, adorns the office.

The superb steamer Liberty No. 2, is the regular Saturday White river mail packet leaving to-day, on arrival of the evening trains, for all points on White river through to Jacksonport, connecting at Duval's Bluff with the Little Rock railroad. The Liberty has unsurpassed passenger accommodations. Captain James Rice commands, Milt. Harry, an exemplary young gentleman, who is noted for his many good qualities and general courtesy, has charge of the office, and is ably seconded in the person of Charley Sharpe.

The wreck of the burnt steamer George D. Palmer was sold at St. Louis Wednesday by United States Marshal Rogers, for $2,150. The wreck was "bought in" by the creditors from Cairo and Mound City. It is said that the purchasers will rebuild the boat, and sell her to the best customer.

The Belle St. Louis, Captain Zeigler, will leave the wharf to-day at five p.m. for Cairo and St. Louis. Captain Ad. Storm does the honors of the office.

The famous mammoth passenger steamer Richmond, Captain Stut. Neal, left New Orleans Wednesday evening, with 400 head of stock and a large passenger trip. She will arrive here to-day at four p.m., and leave at five p.m. for Cincinnati. The Richmond has no superior in fare, speed and comfort. Those wishing a safe and pleasant journey up the Ohio will do well to take passage on her. Captain J. S. Woolfolk, an urbane and polite gentleman, is her chief clerk, purser, and is assisted by Mr. Bob Lodge, an efficient and worthy clerk. Mr. Lodge, notwithstanding he is kept very busy in performing his duties, finds time to contribute letters to several of the leading newspapers along the river, including the AVALANCHE. His correspondence is always interesting, full of wit and humor and valuable information, and is worthy of perusal.

The river at Vicksburg, on Wednesday, was rising slowly, and is five feet below high-water mark of last year.

The Lady Gay was over-due last night from New Orleans.

Captain U. B. Piersel has resigned the command of the Louisiana, and Captain John P. Lusk succeeds him.

The swift and palatial passenger steamer R. E. Lee, Captain John Cannon, will leave the wharf to-day at five p.m. for New Orleans. Captain J. T. Roberts and James Dinwiddie, two affable gentlemen, are her clerks.

The Ruth was to have left St. Louis yesterday for New Orleans. Freights at St. Louis for New Orleans were scarce, and she probably laid over until Saturday.

The Cincinnati Enquirer of Thursday says:

"Mr. Bailley, of Newport, a notorious abolition agitator, whose printing press was thrown into the river at one time, with his family, left on the Pine Grove, bound for Gallatin, Tennessee. He takes printing materials with him, and intends starting a paper at that point."

This man Bailey, whose creed is sufficient to damn him in the estimation of all right-minded people, migrates with his carpet-bag to Gallatin to pick up what he can find laying about loose, and to make new converts to his damning faith. He locates in the town where the infamous thief and murderer, General Paine, of Illinois, murdered fifty-six innocent men, and we hope the ghosts of the poor, innocent victims will haunt the news disciple sufficiently to show him the error of his teachings.

The Napoleon, Arkansas, is partially inundated, and the Marine Hospital at that point is gradually washing away.

Whitemore House.

SPACIOUS airy rooms, clean beds, beautiful and quiet locality, and a table not excelled by any in Memphis. These advantages would do well to select rooms as the house is filling rapidly.

COMMERCIAL.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
SATURDAY, May 23, 1868.

Business in the general market yesterday was dull and inactive, with a small jobbing trade doing in plantation supplies. The market is well supplied, with prices steady and unchanged.

Cotton.

The market yesterday was firmer, under the influence of the favorable advices from the East. Holders were buoyant and asked full prices. There were few buyers on the market, and in consequence the transactions for the day were confined to the sales of a few outside lots, at irregular rates. The market closed firm, with holders asking prices ¼c below New York quotations. The New York market closed firm, with a fair demand; middling, 30¼c; Orleans, 31¼c. Sales for the day 1,800 bales. The Liverpool market closed firmer, with sales of 8,000 bales; uplands, 11¼d; Orleans, 11¾d. Week's sales, 47,000 bales; for exports, 5,000 bales; to speculators, 4,000 bales. Stock, 600,000 bales, of which 354,000 was American; afloat, 472,000 bales, of which 90,000 was American.

Ordinance.

Be it ordained by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Memphis:

SECTION 1. That the road between Main and Shelby streets, on the east and west, and Beale and Linden streets on the north and south, is a nuisance; and that the property owners owning the ground, mentioned in the above limits, be required at their own expense to drain said pond within the next sixty days.

SEC. 2. Should said property owners fail to perform said drainage within the time specified, the Engineer shall make out bills for the same, which work shall be let out by contract to the lowest bidder, and the price of the same shall be charged against said property, according to the value of the same, upon the tax books, said assessment, when so made, shall be placed in the hands of the contractor for payment by said property owners, and upon the refusal or failure to pay the same, suits shall be brought for said assessments.

Passed May 11, 1868—Approved.

The Mineral Springs

—AT—

RALEIGH, TENNESSEE

FOR SALE!

THE CELEBRATED RALEIGH MINERAL SPRINGS, situated on the confines of Raleigh, late County Seat of Shelby county, Tennessee, nine miles northeast of Memphis, and two miles from Wells' Station, on the Memphis and Louisville Railroad. These Springs are six in number, of various mineral and medicinal qualities, and are visited every Summer by thousands of seekers of health and pleasure, from all quarters of the country. They are within a few steps of the village of Raleigh, in a beautiful valley, and also within a few hundred feet of Wolf river, which winds around the base of the eminence on which the village of Raleigh is situated, and empties into the "Father of Waters" at Memphis. Numerous remarkable cures of various diseases have been experienced by sojourners at this health-inspiring retreat, and the present proprietor, Colonel J. M. COLEMAN, can produce hundreds of certificates of cures in cases which had been entirely given over by medical skill. The ground surrounding the Springs, and in fact the entire village of Raleigh, rises to an eminence of pure air, and is as remarkable for its healthfulness as beauty of location. The Springs are in fine order, never failing, and are designated as follows:

MARBLE SPRING.
BOX SPRING.
MAGNOLIA SPRING.
ARSENIC SPRING.
SULPHUR SPRING.
FREESTONE SPRING.

The place has never been visited by epidemic of any kind, and peculiarly characteristic of its healthfulness is the longevity of the inhabitants. The oldest citizens of Shelby county are residents of Raleigh.

The Springs are as much resorted to by pleasure seekers as by invalids, owing to beauty of scenery and various artificial as well as natural attractions. Connected with the Springs are a Pavilion, Ladies' Bowling Alley, Rustic Arbors, Reading Saloon, Gents' Bowling Alley, Saloon, Billiard Room, Gymnasiums, Refreshment Tables, etc., while Wolf river affords excellent Boating and Fishing.

An analysis of the several Springs, by distinguished medical men, shows that they are unsurpassed in Mineral and curative properties by any in the United States. There is no reason then why Raleigh should not become as famous as Saratoga, Sharon or Lebanon, and as largely patronized. It needs only capital and enterprise to accomplish this end.

The elegant country mansion house and lot, residence of Colonel J. M. COLEMAN, is within a few yards of the Springs. The house is in first class order, contains ten rooms, and is beautifully embowered in shrubbery. The lot is well fenced and ornamented with fine shade and fruit trees, and affords all necessary outhouses, cisterns, etc. It is midway between the village and Spring Valley, on the main promenade.

VALUABLE SUBURBAN PROPERTY FOR SALE.

BY virtue of a deed of trust made to me on the 8th day of February, 1867, by Samuel M. Gardiner, and which is duly registered in the office of the Register of Shelby county, Tennessee, in record book 60, part 2, pages 17, 18 and 19, and to which reference is here made, and in pursuance of the terms thereof, I will,

On Thursday, the 4th day of June, 1868,

Proceed to sell, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., at public auction, on the premises, to the highest bidder, for cash, the following real estate, described in said trust deed as follows: A certain lot or parcel of land lying in the county of Shelby, State of Tennessee, about three and a half miles northeast of the city of Memphis, and being lot 4 of the subdivision of land between the legatees of Constantine Pulse, in the Law Court of Memphis, as the same is laid off, and known as the lands of Joseph N. Pulse vs. Mary Josephine Moore and others, which said lot No. 4 is bounded as follows: to-wit: Beginning at a stake which stands on the north line of lot 4, said line being 18 links west of 7 links to a stake on the south line of said avenue 18 links wide; thence east with the south line of said avenue 7 chains and 65 links to a stake which stands in the center of an avenue or public road; thence north with the center of said road as it claims to a stake which stands 18 links east of a red bud tree marked 4; thence west 7 chains and 65 links to the beginning, containing 12 75-100 acres. The sale will be made to satisfy a certain promissory note described in the aforesaid trust deed, for the principal sum of $117, of principal waived. The title to said property is believed to be indisputed, but will only convey as trustee.
